Howe Construction, Inc. Announces Expansion

Construction firm grows as market shifts

ROSWELL, GEORGIA (April 22, 2009) – Howe Construction, celebrating its 10th anniversary in the financial construction industry, announces its expansion. Given an environment of unrest and uncertain economic conditions, Howe Construction has strategically ramped up their operation by adding two departments to better serve their customers more efficiently. These include an Interior Design Team headed by Jennifer Catalon and a Communications and Marketing Department led by Jillian Frenkel.

With focus on creative solutions and cost efficient design, Ms. Catalon joins the Howe team to bridge the current economic times with the design needs of the future. IIDA associate member, her background managing interior specifications coupled with AutoCAD and space planning knowledge will facilitate Howe customers re-design, renovations or new construction.

Ms. Frenkel earned her Communications Degree from Michigan State University. She holds a license in Georgia Residential Construction and Real Estate as well as Building Code Certification. She brings her construction industry knowledge together with her business, marketing and corporate management acumen to Howe Construction and the financial community it serves.
